

Power-as-a-Service

Customised solutions for electrification of the aviation industry

At Vattenfall Network Solutions we enable fossil free living by providing customized solutions for electrification of the aviation industry.

We can support your business by:

- Delivering the function of electrical infrastructure as a service, freeing up resources for your business
- Upgrading your networks and avoiding costly downtime from electrical outages
- Handling all compliance, regulatory and environmental issues and reducing risk

Enabling electrification for a fossil free living

If your business owns or plans to invest in any high voltage energy infrastructure, for example substations between the main electricity grid and your locations, Vattenfall could be your partner. At Vattenfall Network Solutions we deliver functional solutions for electrical network and charging infrastructure on the ground. We take full responsibility for your electrical needs by owning the electrical networks and managing all compliance, regulatory and environmental issues, so you can concentrate on their core business.

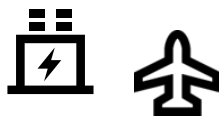

Value added services for airport operators

Vattenfall can help optimize various aspects of your business including:

- Existing electrical infrastructure
- Owning, installing, operating and maintaining charging infra on the ground
- Awareness and planning for the long-term transition in aviation
- Ground handling electrical assets
- Other electrical facilities including PV installations and battery storages

Our offer, Power-as-a-Service

Power-as-a-Service is a functional solution for which we will be fully responsible for the electrical infrastructure including ownership, electrical safety, maintenance, reinvestments and faults. We deliver the function and take the risks. The customer pays a fixed monthly fee for a period of approximately 10 years for this service.

We take on

-  Ownership
-  Regulations
-  Risk & Responsibility
-  Planning & Installation
-  Maintenance

We enable your transition towards fossil-free living

Contact

If you want to know more about our solutions and services please contact us at Fardigelanlaggning@vattenfall.com

VATTENFALL 